Beaujolais, Moulin à Vent, France

DOMAINE
RICHARD ROTTIERS

I took over 3 ha of vineyards in 2007, all between 40 and 80 years old, and started my own winery to produce wines that will reflect the unique Moulin à Vent terroir.

Today with 5 ha, I started to convert our vineyard organic in 2012.

Through various experiences in wine making and vineyard management, I learned the techniques that make a great wine.

Through our farming process we focus on the soil as well as the environment in order to harvest grapes that are disease-free and at the right maturity.

The grapes are hand-picked and carefully sorted in the vineyards so that only the best of the crop is kept.

In 1814, Jean Joseph MOREAU, a "tonnelier" from Montbard, founded the wine-merchant and trading firm, J. Moreau et fils, in Chablis.

DOMAINE CHRISTIAN MOREAU

A CHARLES DEPUIS SIX GÉNÉRATIONS

www.DomaineChrisitanMoreau.com

In 1974, the MOREAU family decided to give the Canadian company, Hiram Walker, a 50 percent stake in their company, and in 1985, transferred the remaining shares to them. The firm J. Moreau et Fils was then sold to the wine-trading company Boisset de Nuits Saint-Georges, since then no one in the family has been part of the company.

With the 2002 vintage, the Christian Moreau family regained their full rights, not only to exploit their own vineyards, but also to make and market the wines belonging to their Domaine.

- The wine greets you with an enticing aroma of ripe red and black fruits, such as cherries, raspberries, and blackberries, intertwined with subtle hints of dried herbs and spices.
- On the palate, Douceur de Fruit BIO Côtes du Rhône Rouge 2022 offers a harmonious balance of fruit, acidity, and tannins. Flavors of ripe berries dominate, complemented by hints of plum, fig, and a touch of black pepper.
- The finish is long and lingering, with lingering notes of dark fruit and subtle spice. The wine's acidity provides a refreshing lift, while the tannins add structure and depth.

Rhône Valley, France

Georges Lelektoglou

Originally from Greece, Georges Lelektoglou is part of the furniture in and around the Rhône Valley. He once worked as a Courtier de Campagne, looking for bulk wines for the likes of Guigal and Chapoutier, when he started making his own personal selections of wines to celebrate the birth of his eldest son in 1983. His wife's family was part of the co-operative and owned a historic vineyard in Larnage. Along with the Cave de Tain, they produced a quality Crozes-Hermitage in '83 that was a great commercial success. When he found exceptional bottles of wines, Georges also offered them to some of France's most celebrated, Michelin-starred restaurants, including Troisgros, Chapel, Bocuse and Gagnaire.

He opened up his first cellar in '88 and started to select personal cuvées in small quantities, looking for old, well-looked after vines and always working with trusted friends. He makes a Crozes-Hermitage and a selection of Côte-Rôtie in tiny volumes. Georges was a distributor of Château Rayas when he found a unique, tiny plot of 100-year-old Grenache vines very close to Rayas' vineyards – in the exceptional Pignan lieu-dit of Châteauneuf-du-Pape.

Georges' philosophy involves working with single parcels, minimising the number of varieties in the blend and ageing the wines in a manner respectful to their provenance. Please be aware that volumes are extremely limited.

Our estate was created by my grandfather Francis USSEGLIO, who came from Italy in 1931, settled in Châteauneuf du Pape and began producing his own wine in 1948.

In 1963, my father Raymond took over and with my mother Danielle they were going to create and expand the estate which would bear the name of DOMAINE USSEGLIO RAYMOND.

Since 1999 it is now my turn to operate and cultivate the 24 hectares of the estate..

The Seehof winery in the famous Rhine-Hessian wine town of Westhofen is run by the Fauth family in the fifth generation. Fauth's son Florian is responsible for the winemaking and the style of the wines and father Ernst takes care of the care of the vineyards. Over a thousand years old, the Seehof itself is a small piece of cultural history. Fauth relies on fully ripe grapes, a strict selection, a lot of manual work, and a clear elaboration of the profile of the Westhofen locations such as Morstein and Kirchspiel.

Langhe growers since 1796. Sori Paitin is a parcel of land located in Langa with an unparalleled expression. It's distinctiveness resides in the expression of this rooted relation that the family - Pasquero-Elia - has established within these lands. Resisting wars and severe weather, through 8 generations, an everlasting bond was grown.

Every small plot is carefully monitored and harvested with the right timing, with the objective of giving elegance, balance and purity.

- In the art of wine, in Langa, there are no rules or protocols. Sensation leads. Intuition is what lace experience, technique and touch. The grower performs a "prophetic" act, he spreads/allows the world all the shades of his terroir. It is a transcendent act, he made, through the wine, eternal and sensible an ensemble otherwise ephemeral and decaying.

Every so often a story comes along without a beginning and an end. This is the story of a visionary family, an uncontaminated terroir, and a shared passion for the world of wine. It is the story of Castello di Monsanto, a winery that set a revolution in motion with a vision that seems to go on forever.

Four vineyards: il Poggio, Scanni, il Mulino, il Salcio. A total of 72 hectares dispersed over altitudes ranging between 280 and 320 meters above sea level. The green belt surrounding them is a veritable green lung of enzymatic biodiversity, where everything is in perfect balance. This generates a vital organic harmony for the vines, so that they are the richest and purest expression of the essence of their terroir.

The history of Argiano took an about-turn while it was owned by Siena's noble Pecci family, with the construction between 1581 and 1596 of the splendid villa, an example of 16th century aristocratic residential architecture. Thanks also to the construction of the cellar, it was during those same years that Argiano developed its winemaking vocation.

Ownership of the estate changed hands over the centuries among various noble families, until the 19th century, when it came into the possession, and under the enlightened management, of Lady Ersilia Caetani Lovatelli, who succeeded in introducing and promoting Argiano's wines in the finest cultural circles of the time.

The great Italian poet Giosuè Carducci wrote a verse at the time saying "nella quale asprezza mi tersi col vin d'Argiano, il quale è molto buono..." (in the harshness of which I cleansed myself with Argiano wine, which really is good...).

LA RASINA — MONTALCINO —

The farm La Rasina born in the 70's by Santi Mantengoli, but just in the second half of the 80's, through the successor Vasco, the work was directed towards the winemaking activities. Since 1988 the company focused more on this area which in Montalcino was evolving rapidly; many investments both in the vineyards and in the cellar, have led the company to the current situation. Since 1997 the company is led by Marco Mantengoli, young wine technician, which placed its new ideas and modern technology and decades of experience handed by his father.

The Pacenti estate was established in 1970, with the purchase of the property north of Montalcino (Pelagrioli) by Siro, who then proceeded to plant some important vineyards, which are still there today, in the fresh, clay soils of the land overlooking Siena.

In 1988, management passed into the hands of Giancarlo. This was the year of the harvest in which Rosso and Brunello di Montalcino Siro Pacenti were bottled for the first time.

Sicily, Italy

Founded in 1833 by Vincenzo Florio, the Florio winery in Marsala look out towards the bright sea of western Sicily. Wrapped by the energy of the winds, brushed by a salty tang from the waves, these beautiful and silent cellars harbour the oak-wood barrels where Florio Marsala gently ages in seemingly motionless movement. Hundreds of barrels, vats and kegs, each holding its own story, breathe the sea through the tuff-stone floor, in the high naves where perfumes and architecture blend. This wonderful place is the theatre where Sicilian idea of beauty is distilled, and our Winemaker Tommaso Maggio - through the wise use of space, time and oxygen - creates Marsala wine by slowly blending all its sensorial potentials.

The story of this Winery is basically the story of a family. It started in the early 1900s in Serradella, home of farmers, olive groves & vineyards. It was here that in 1906, Antonio, the patriarch, was born.

Today, the Winery is run by the third Argiolas generation: Antonio's grandchildren. Its after all a simple story: one harvest after another, tradition is handed down from parent to child.

- Long lingering with a fresh lively acidity and well intergrated firm ripe tannis. A good potential for ageing. Long and serious.

Voche de Autor

185.0 -

- Extremely evolved with the tertiary notes of roasted black coffee.
- Chewy, dense, with an almost oily thick texture it is still rich and broth-like, but retains a refreshing zing of acidity to balance it out and keep it fresh.
- Black cherry fruit comes to the fore over time, along with pepper spice, liquorice and a light vanilla relief.

Rioja, Spain

The wines from Gregorio Martinez are from a SINGLE STATE. The land corresponds to the tertiary from an old glacier & the stones that it carried. The wines are produced following a patented production method by the wine maker Ricardo Cantera, who uses the carbonic produced during the fermentation, one of the best antioxidant agent and a great extracting force, with this system the wines contain very little sulfur, are more fruity, vibrant, fresh and aromatic. Very interesting the Tempranillo Sangrado, White Selecccion, a white wine as the old lost whites from Rioja.

Ribera del Duero, Spain

Hacienda Solano is a small family winery, located in La Aguilera, Burgos. A village that boasts some of the best and oldest vineyards in the D.O. Ribera del Duero.

HACIENDA SOLANO
WINE & SPIRITS OF LA AGUILERA - BURGOS - SPAIN

With simple work, we try to make each of our wines reflect the character of the place, the climate and the pine forest environment that surrounds us, the type and structure, the character and finesse of our limestone soils in the Ribera del Duero is reflected in the style of our wines.

We work with our own vineyards, with a sustainable viticulture that reflects the passage of several generations of winegrowers. In them there is a lot of effort and dedication, but above all, passion.

Our philosophy has always been of minimal intervention, we work in an artisanal way, without yeasts, without additives, and with careful nurturing, we want our vineyards to express themselves freely.

Colchagua, Chile

Emilio Bouchon arrived in Chile from Bordeaux in 1892, a pioneer of the Colchagua Valley and is responsible for the planting of high quality vineyards. Some of the vines which still remain in production date back to 1912.

In 1997, Mario Pablo Silva made a proposal to his father that would transform his bulk business into a bottling company for export, bearing his family's own brand. Mario Silva accepted his son's challenge which led to Casa Silva being created. In a short span of time, Viña Casa Silva has become widely recognised as one of the most significant producer of premium wine from Chile.

It has won important international recognitions and over the past few years, Casa Silva has been amongst the most highly awarded Chilean wineries.

- Robert Parker's Wine Advocate:

"Wineries such as Casa Silva have figured out how to produce terrific red wines at bargain price"

"Many of the wines of Casa Silva are excellent values"

Founded in 1832, Castarede is the oldest French Armagnac trading House.

In 1932, Raymond Castarede took over the family company.

The family business which had a great activity in the beginning, and has not known the development that it should have for some reasons, in particular, geographical reasons. And in the family they are more collectors than merchants.

Very active in the local institutions (Company of Musketeers, BNIA, federation of Armagnac...)
 Raymond Castarede has repeatedly promoted this Eau-de-vie from Gascony

The Drouins are interested in quality, not quantity: with only traditional plant sorts planted, which develop high-stemmed trees, they produce relatively little crop, but of a very special quality. The fruit mash is only pressed once, in order to only extract the best. After distillation, the distillate is aged in different sized casks of various ages, even including a few sherry and port wine casks - the distillate is filled on average once per year. That means, the casks are chosen with the goal of letting the Calvados develop under optimal conditions. That's how the Haus Drouhin managed to receive countless medals and honorable prizes, including amongst them the award of best Calvados cellarer.

'The Pig That Saved Irish Whiskey'

In 1875, in Dublin's Great Whiskey Fire 5000 barrels of whiskey stored in Malone's bonded warehouse suddenly ignited. History relates that it was the long squeal of a 'flaming pig' that raised the alarm, saving the city and the whiskey. Over a hundred years later, Flaming Pig Irish whiskey was born in the pig's honour.

Flaming Pig is a blend of Irish single malt and grain whiskeys, made richer and spicier, with added smokiness, from intense barrel charring.

EN PRIMEUR WINES

"EN PRIMEUR" is a French wine trade term for wine which is sold as a 'future', i.e. before it is bottled.

- The buying of wines at its very first offering price
- Wines purchased during the En Primeur offer period will be noticeably lower than after they are bottled
- En Primeur wines can possibly be a great investment as the value of wines may increase by the folds in 2 years from En Primeur to its release date
- Purchasing wines during En Primeur is probably the only way to secure premium wines at a reasonable price before the price is influenced by the market.
- En Primeur wines will only be delivered after one and a half to two years from the offer
- From the time the En Primeur is offered, all payments must be paid in full within the 30 days after the order is made

FINE WINES

Other than our extensive portfolio of agency wines, CornerStone also offers a wide selection of fine wines for investors and connoisseurs alike.

Our selection of fine wines feature some of the very best grand cru wines as well as premium labels from regions all over the world such as Italy, Spain, USA, Chile, Rhone and the rest of France.

For our latest En Primeur and Fine Wine List, please contact our Relationship Manager who will be glad to assist you.
